

Community Landcare 'Pop-up' Grants - Riverina

Guidelines

Overview

The Community Landcare 'Pop-up' Grants Program aims to support Landcare and community groups in the Riverina Local Land Services area to promote community-driven natural resource management. Groups are invited to apply for a grant of up to $2,000 (GST exclusive) to undertake projects and activities that encourage the involvement of community groups in understanding, protecting and enhancing the natural environment. A total of $25,000, on a competitive basis, is available each year for three years (2016/17, 2017/18 and 2018/19).

The Landcare 'Pop-up' Grants are funded by an allocation from the Australian Government's National Landcare Programme (NLP) to Riverina Local Land Services for the Regional Landcare Facilitator Project. In the Riverina, the RLF project and the 'Pop-up' Grants are administered by Murrumbidgee Landcare Inc. (MLi) and LachLandcare (LLi) under contract to Riverina Local Land Services.

Strategic Objectives of the National Landcare Programme (NLP):

1. Communities are managing landscapes to sustain long-term economic and social benefits from their environment.
2. Farmers and fishers are increasing their long term returns through better management of the natural resource base.
3. Communities are involved in caring for their environment.
4. Communities are protecting species and natural assets.

What types of projects will be funded?

- On-ground works to revegetate with native vegetation, stabilise soils and/or improve water quality (e.g. weed treatment, pest control, revegetation projects).
- On-ground works to protect and enhance existing areas of native vegetation and sensitive areas (e.g. riparian zones).
- On-ground works to provide habitat for threatened species and ecological communities.
- Projects that enhance community awareness of biodiversity, threatened species and threatened ecological communities.
- Projects that build the capacity of the group (e.g. field days, workshops, community engagement, training or skill development sessions).
- Projects that use Indigenous knowledge to support environmental conservation.

What can funding be used for?

- Materials (e.g. seedlings, tree/shrub guards).
- Equipment purchase (up to a maximum of $500 per project). Funding to hire equipment may be proposed or considered. At the completion of the project, small assets shall be entrusted to the group that acquired them but MLI/LLi may negotiate with the group for the loan or use of an asset by another group.
- Fencing materials for the protection of native vegetation and sensitive areas.

- Expert advice, guest speakers or technical services (e.g. mapping).
- Involvement of group members in training programs.
- The running of workshops and field days.
- The use of Indigenous knowledge to support environment conservation.

To ensure a maximum grant ($2,000), applicants should endeavour to outline several funding components (e.g. materials, equipment, expert advice) and/or activities (e.g. a tree-planting day, workshop, farm walk) rather than proposing a single item or event.

What costs will not be funded?

- Labour costs, or costs of contractors.
- Ongoing maintenance of previously funded work.
- Retrospective activities, or activities that have already commenced.
- Activities that do not contribute towards the National Landcare Programme Strategic Objectives.
- Purchase of assets above $500 per year.

- Salaried positions related to the normal ongoing operations of an organisation or an individual's commercial operation.
- Purchase of equipment or materials that are normally part of a landholder's responsibility for the management of their property.
- Activities that include the introduction of plants, animals or other biological agents that are known to be environmental or agricultural weeds or pests.
- Weed control activities that are required to be carried out by law or by a private contractual obligation, or where the primary benefit will be for agricultural production purposes.
- Administration costs associated with a project.
