

Glossy Black Cockatoo Project Community Planting

Glossy Black-Cockatoo:
Stuart Harris

Volunteers Planting: Stephen Corey

Drooping Sheoak:
Greening Australia

- What? Planting of up to 500 Drooping Sheoak seedlings as part of the Glossy Black-Cockatoo Project (see attached). Fifty, a live Glossy Black-Cockatoo will be attending the day.
- When? Wednesday 1 May, 9.30 am – 12.30 pm. Followed by a BBQ.
- What to Bring? Please bring a hat, sunscreen, long sleeves, long pants, gardening gloves, sturdy boots, and a water bottle.
- Where? 732 Old Cooma Road, Googong NSW.
- Directions? From Queanbeyan drive south around 7 km, through Karabar and along Cooma Street/Old Cooma Road. The turnoff to the property is on the right shortly after Holcim Quarry and if you reach the Googong Dam turnoff you have gone too far - look out for the Greening Australia sign! There will be limited car parking so car-pooling is recommended.
- RSVP Essential! Numbers are limited so RSVP is essential!
Phone: (02) 6253 3035
Email: admin@act.greeningaustralia.org.au

You don't need any experience to attend a Greening Australia event, instructions and tools are provided on site.

This project is supported by the New South Wales Government's Environmental Trust